Razor Risk Technologies to sponsor and present at Global Bank Risk Conference 2011, Singapore

Sydney: Razor Risk Technologies (ASX: RZR), a leading Sydney-based provider of risk management technology and consulting solutions to financial institutions worldwide, is a main sponsor of the Global Bank Risk Conference to be held in Singapore on 24-25 January, 2011.

The credit crisis has forced banks to critically examine how they manage risk and has exposed some significant weaknesses in risk management across the financial services industry. In response to the crisis, new regulations, such as the amendments to the Basel II Accord, have been proposed to strengthen and create a more prudently managed and resilient financial industry.

The Global Bank Risk Conference aims to bring together experts from the regulators and the banking industry to expound on the impacts of the post-crisis on risk management.

Richard Bennett, Managing Director, Razor Risk Technologies UK Ltd will speak on January 24, 2011. His presentation, "Tackling counterparty credit risk in light of the global financial crisis" will cover the measurement of counterparty credit exposures in the trading environment, updates on the Credit Value Adjustment (CVA) for counterparty credit risk, and the increasing integration of market and credit risk measurement and management.

"Recent regulatory proposals indicate significant changes to the way banking institutions operate. Our participation in the upcoming Global Bank Risk Conference highlights our fundamental belief that in order to succeed in these evolving regulatory and market conditions, this is a critical time for institutions to examine how risk is measured and managed across their organisation," said Mr Bennett.

Additionally, on January 25, 2011, Richard Bennett will participate in the panel, "Making risk management a value-added function in the board room."

Also participating in the event are Thies Arens, Senior Vice President Product Development, Razor Risk Technologies and Gerry Lawlor, recently appointed Razor Risk Technologies' Advisory Board member.
